carved for a roman city prefect who was a newly baptized christian at his death the sarcophagus of junius bassus is not only a magnificent example of the fine style of mid fourth century sculpture but also a treasury of early christian iconography clearly indicating the christianization of rome and the romanization of christianity whereas most previous scholarship has focused on the style of the sarcophagus elizabeth struthers malbon explores the perplexing elements of its iconography in their fourth century context in so doing she reveals the distinction between pagan and christian images to be less rigid than sometimes thought against the background of earlier and contemporary art and religious literature malbon explicates the relationship of the facade s two levels of scenes depicting stories from the old and new testaments the connection between the scenes on the facade with those on the lid and ends of the sarcophagus and the integration of pagan elements within a christian work what emerges is a carefully constructed iconographic program shedding light on the development of early christian art within late antique culture originally published in 1990 the princeton legacy library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of princeton university press these paperback editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback editions the goal of the princeton legacy library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by princeton university press since its founding in 1905

the present book on the iconography of the buddhist sculpture of orissa utilizes the author s expertise of orissan brahmanical art to develop a similar consistent and reliable iconographic and stylistic evolution for the buddhist arts of orissa and its adherence to or deviation from surviving textual iconographic peculiarities there is little doubt that orissa played a major role in the creation development and dissemination of buddhist doctrines and concepts throughout india and the buddhist world particularly in respect to vajrayana buddhism and the iconography of sculptural mandalas particular emphasis in this book is placed on the reciprocal influence between brahmanical and buddhist art in orissa both religions expanding at the same time in regard to the proliferation of deities and their variant forms and each apparently competing with the other for patronage and converts
